QuoteCAD™ DB Manager

This software is oriented not only for reseller companies but also for companies that build and distribute their own products.

With QuoteCAD™ DB Manager, companies can import products from its suppliers and also create their own products. This user-friendly software groups in just one window all the tools that are needed to create and edit the products. It uses 3 different user account types (administrator, limited and very limited) to let the users access the products database and also a system administrator account to manage the complete system. The QuoteCAD™ DB Manager software uses one initial window that will be always active and in which the system administrator can manage all the system. The system management includes:

- Definition of QuoteCAD™ DB Manager's Working Directory;
- Creation and edition of Manufacturers;
- Creation and edition of Database IDs;
- Creation and edition of user accounts;
- Import Manufacturers;
- Management of prices:
- Add or remove prices. Up to 4 different prices can be defined for each product. The minimum is 1 price;
- Change the mapping names of each price;
- Create and edit price's formulas. These formulas are mathematical formulas that can be applied to each price in order to automate the products prices. QuoteCAD™ DB Manager uses an editor to let the user build these formulas;
- Add or remove taxes to apply in each final quote.
- Creation and edition of Quote Groups;
- Creation and edition of Payment Terms;
- Define custom texts that can be showed in specific fields in each final quote;
- Specify a banner (company's logo) that can be showed in each final quote;

For products management, QuoteCAD™ DB Manager uses one additional window in which are placed all the necessary tools to create and edit products. The products management includes:

- Creation and edition of product's lines (only for administrators);
- Organization of products by families in a tree form (only for administrators);
- Creation of new products (for administrators and limited users);
- Creation of new products by copy (for administrators and limited users);
- Products edition:
- Each product settings are grouped together in just one window and the user can open as many windows as he needs in one section;
- The very limited users cannot edit the quote definitions (commercial description and prices) of the products neither create new associated groups or edit the existent associated groups;
- Change the user name and its password;
- Part management and assembling for Bill of Materials;

Unlike QuoteCAD™, the QuoteCAD™ DB Manager is a completely independent software that not needs an IntelliCAD based CAD software in order to work.
